

To Probe Both Death, Mine Election

By J. E. LINDER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Union leaders Joseph A. Yablonski, his wife and daughter are charged today by the Labor Department with a full-scale probe of the bitterly fought mine workers' presidential election some 100 miles from the site of the tragedy.

Yablonski, 47, a former U.S. Army sergeant, was a request for a Senate investigation of the UMW by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., and a UMW offer of a $50,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the killer or killers.

The slain man's lawyer, Joseph Bank, said in Washington, D.C., "What is required now is a joint Justice-Labor investigation of corruption and violence in the United Mine Workers, of the massive expenditures of union funds during the election campaign as well as the election day frauds."

The disclosure of the investigation by Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz came after three days of allegations and denials—that the gunshots slayings of the Yablonskis stemmed from the election which Yablonski lost to incumbent W.A. "Tony" Boyle.

The initial assertion that the murders and election were linked came from Yablonski's two attorney sons, Kenneth and Joseph Yablonski, hours after the victims were discovered Monday in their rural Clarksville home about 25 miles from here.

But as they prepared to bury their father in the coal mining center where he rose from the mine pits to top union office, the brothers declined comment on either the investigation or the union's reward offer.

Meanwhile, state police and FBI agents, still searching for a solid lead, began a door-to-door canvass of Clarksville hopefuls. Its 300 inhabitants could provide clues. The FBI said agents also had hunted out into nearby towns and across the border into northern West Virginia.

Joseph Bank, the slain miner's lawyer, said in a letter to Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., head of the Senate Permanent Investigations Subcommittee, and they (the police) resumed their firing.

Groth said he ordered another cease-fire and heard another policeman in the rear say, "Come out with your hands up."

He said "a voice came from what I considered to be the first bedroom and said, 'Shoot it out,' and the shotgun blast was fired from the first bedroom."

Groth said he ordered still another cease-fire and was told that some of the occupants of the rear of the apartment were surrendering.

As those Panthers were surrendering, Groth said, "I pleaded with the occupants of the front bedroom to surrender."

Cotton Belt in Wreck at Bluff

ARKANSAS (AP) — No one was injured Thursday when 38 cars of a 100-car Cotton Belt freight train derailed north of here and several caught fire.

Authorities said the train, which was en route from Pine Bluff through Texarkana, derailed about 1,000 feet north of a crossing with a dirt road.

Firemen from Pine Bluff and Rison were unable to get within 1,000 feet of the fire because of overgrowth and mud.

Grant for Adams Field at L.R.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration has approved a $150,000 grant to the city of Little Rock for improvements at Adams Field, the city's airport.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., announced approval of the grant Thursday. He also said a $30,752 grant to the Little Rock School District had been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The funds are to be used for acquisition and development of about 3.86 acres of land for park and recreational purposes.

Israeli Keep Up Strikes From Air

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets kept up their almost daily attacks along the Suez Canal today, striking at targets in the northern sector of the waterway for 75 minutes before returning safely, the Israeli military command said.

A spokesman also reported an artillery exchange farther south along the canal in which one Israeli soldier was wounded.

On the occupied west bank of the Jordan River six miles south of Bethlehem, Israeli troops killed one suspected Arab saboteur and captured 20 others Thursday.

A spokesman said one group of Arabs was found hiding in a cave. After a two-hour siege, during which the Israelis hurled grenades through the cave entrance, five guerrillas surrendered and a sixth man was found dead inside the cave.

There were no Israeli casualties in the operations. The troops reported they found two large caches of arms including 70 hand grenades, several hundred pounds of explosives, detonators, rifles and ammunition.

A Jordanian army spokesman in Amman reported that an Israeli patrol tried to cross the Jordan River during the night but was intercepted and forced to return. He said heavy fire was exchanged for 90 minutes.

Earlier, he said, the Israelis mortared Jordanian positions in the southern Jordan valley and Jordanian troops returned the fire. No losses were reported in either engagement, he added.

King Hussein pledged Thursday that Jordan will not accept any settlement with Israel that falls short of "complete liberation of occupied Arab territory and restoration of usurped Arab rights."

In a broadcast report on the Arab summit conference in Rabat, Morocco last month, Hussein said if the way to peace does not "lead us to our aims, then we shall achieve those aims through liberation."

HANOI (from page one)

Glaspell spelled out in his "people's war, people's army" speeches and it seems that one theme of the December essays is his desire to provide the intellectual underpinning for the strategy now being followed by his forces in the south Vietnamese war front.

The entry of American ground troops into the war in 1965 snatched victory from a Viet Cong people's army that had dutifully followed all Glaspell's maxims for insurgency. The Tet offensive launched in February 1968 by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces badly battered American resolve.

But two years after that major effort, the United States still has large numbers of forces in Vietnam and in addition is attempting to build the Vietnamese armed forces into a formidable military machine.

The Viet Cong are being pushed into the hills and across the borders. The North Vietnamese troops deployed along the frontier are bloodied every time they move from their base camps.

60 Top Bulls Offered in L.R. Sale

The 4th Arkansas performance tested bull sale will be held Saturday, Jan. 10, at 1 p.m. at the Arkansas National Stockyards in Little Rock. According to Calvin J. Caldwell, county extension agent, 60 top-quality performance tested bulls will be sold.

In this group, there will be 21 Angus, 18 Hereford, 13 Polled Hereford, one Galloway, and six Charolais bulls. Most of these bulls will be about two years old and are well developed so that are ready to be placed in cow herds.

Thirty-five of the bulls were tested on experiment stations and the other bulls had top records in farm tests. Some of the top purebred herds in the state will be selling bulls.

Angus breeders consigning are: J.M. Park, Cabot; Freeze Brothers, Newark; Hallmark Farms, Danville; Jimmy Williams, Newport; Ross Wingert, Rose Bud; Hugh Taylor, Little Rock; Norman Hagan, DeWitt; and Dr. J.D. Patterson, Searcy.

Hereford breeders include: John McKnight, Searcy; W. R. Farms; Arch Smith, Texarkana; and Ray Edwards, Newark. Polled Herefords are consigned by: Bill Wade, Smithville; Bill Sloan, Bono; Weber Cattle Company, Jacksonville; Carl Gillette, Jacksonville; Boswell Store, Okolona; Wingfield Martin, Little Rock; and John Graves, Delaware.

Charolais bulls in the sale are from Johnny Calk Ranch, Mansfield, and Bill Simmons, Siloam Springs.

A Galloway Bull owned by Gene Loper of Hardy will be sold in this sale.

Bulls in this sale have good performance records and this is the largest number of bulls consigned to one of the Performance Tested Bull Sales, said Mr. Caldwell.

Records provided on each bull will help buyers select a bull with strong conformation and good gains.

The Arkansas Beef Performance Test Program is one of the best in the nation, and this sale provides an opportunity for cattlemen to take advantage of it. Using good productive bulls is one of the best ways to make improvement in any beef herd.

reluctantly, to shoot for less in the hope that legislators also would be willing to bend a little for the sake of the state's financial problems.

So far, the governor's comments have indicated he is willing to accept the legislature's ideas on how to handle tax measures in some areas. While most indications in the administration are that an extension of the sales tax to services will be sought rather than an increase in the sales tax rate, Rockefeller talked Monday of an increase in the rate, with some of the money to be given to cities and counties. He said then that he was willing to listen to legislators' ideas on what method to adopt to get the money into the hands of municipalities and county governments.

During 1969, Rockefeller cautioned legislators not to oppose his program too quickly lest the voters react by declining to return them to office in this year's elections for failure to raise enough revenue to maintain or improve state services. Rockefeller said the public supported his program. Legislators said they found little evidence of such support and did not go along.

look as much like a bum as those worn by the younger set.

You don't have to worry about some wet-behind-the-ears whippersnapper stealing your job from you, for he disdains the idea of living in such a commonplace lot.

Even if you share much of the idealism of youth, you aren't expected to help build barricades or man them. It is charitably realized that you are too old and tired to lift heavy stones or hurt them.

The kids can do without your advice, but they are still dependent upon the power of your pocketbook.

While they are galloping off to tilt at every windmill on life's horizon, you are free to lift your eyes and admire the beauty of arching sky and bending rainbow.

No without the generation gap? How could you? It is the only thing that makes middle age feel safe.

Unscrupulous Sellers to Be Hounded by a New Policing Group

By JAMES V. LAMB
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — "Caveat emptor" is Latin for "buyer beware."

But the purpose of a new company called "Caveat Emptor, Inc." is to make sellers beware — of palming off shoddy merchandise or providing slipshod servicing jobs on such items as home appliances and cars.

"I've been clipped so many times I wanted to do something about it," James E. Magner, founder and president of Caveat Emptor, said Thursday.

Magner plans to use gentle persuasion, then pickets and sound trucks if necessary, to shame the unscrupulous into "giving an honest job for an honest dollar."

Caveat Emptor was chartered in Pennsylvania last October and so far has signed up 300 families at $5 a year, Magner said.

"We plan to go nationwide and have 50,000 members eventually," he declared.

Magner, an insurance broker, and his brother, Joseph P. Magner, are principal stockholders.

Magner said he decided to start the company after trying unsuccessfully to get a new electric typewriter put into running order.

He said the company would follow up a member complaint by sending a man to talk to the offending vendor of wares or services.

If nothing happened, "then we'd picket the place," employing college students and housewives hired at an hourly wage.

Magner said additional pressure would be exerted in extreme cases through a sound truck and publicity in a newspaper. He is planning for members.

Caveat Emptor's official kick-off date is Jan. 15.

Tanker Is Sinking in the Pacific

By JACK SCHRIEBMAN
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A tanker with 41 men aboard and loaded with 280,000 gallons of jet fuel was slowly sinking in the storm-tossed Pacific 250 miles west of Los Angeles today as rescue boats and helicopters sped to the scene.

A C130 aircraft circling above the stricken S.S. Connecticut reported the 676-foot ship's first deck-the well deck jammed with cargo fuel pipes-was awash.

There was no immediate word on the crewmen, said Coast Guard spokesmen coordinating the rescue operation here.

The refrigerated ship Tsuneshima Maru reached the tanker 4½ hours after the distress call went out and was standing by in case the master decided to abandon ship.

The tanker's master, who was not identified, radioed that the Japan-bound ship, which left Los Angeles Thursday, was taking in water through driveshaft tubes connecting the engine room to the propellers.

Because of a power failure, the ship's pumps ground to a halt.

The Coast Guard C130 dropped emergency pumps to the ship, but it was not known whether the crewmen had retrieved them.

The Connecticut's captain reported his ship was being tossed by winds up to 69 miles an hour and seas 15 to 20 feet high.

Three merchant ships—the Oriental Pearl, the Buckeye Atlantic and the Hawaiian Bulldozer—were reported speeding to the scene.

The Coast Guard also dispatched the cutter Rush from San Francisco, the cutter Cape Hedge from Morro Bay, Calif., and two helicopters and another cutter from San Diego, Calif.

Connecticut Transport Co. of New York was listed as the owner of the Yokohama-bound tanker.

Sheppard Draws 1 to 14 Years

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Thomas D. Sheppard, a former Los Angeles city councilman, has been sentenced to 1 to 14 years in prison on a bribery charge.

Sheppard, 44, a Van Nuys businessman, was convicted in November of accepting an $11,000 bribe from developer Joseph Aronoff in connection with a 1964 Canoga Park zoning case.

Sheppard had contended the money was a loan but the prosecution said he made no attempt to repay any of it until an investigation.

report be made public, the Massachusetts Supreme Court has ruled.

The attorneys had carefully prepared rebuttal testimony and a consulting firm's report to the effect Miss Kopechne could have lived less than a minute after the car toppled from unlighted Dike Bridge, no matter how soon help was summoned.

Farrar had said the victim could have survived in an air pocket in the overturned car.

At the outset of the inquest Monday, Boyle announced he would permit no extraneous testimony—and with Farrar's theory excluded from the inquest, the rebuttal report presumably will also be kept out of the record.

After Boyle has filed his report, Dist. Atty. Edmund S. Dinis must decide whether to prosecute Kennedy or anyone else involved in the case by taking it to a grand jury for indictment. Guarded hints from Dinis and his staff indicated he would follow Boyle's recommendation on that, although he is technically free to go to a grand jury any time.

Dinis appeared outside the old Dukes County courthouse shortly before 2 p.m. Thursday, a crisp, sparkling afternoon, to announce that testimony had ended. It was closed out by the testimony of the five young women who, with Miss Kopechne, Kennedy, and five Kennedy male friends, had attended a Chappaquiddick Island cook-out last July 18.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "A Last Laugh at the 60's," with Bob Newhart presiding, was a noble and occasionally hilarious effort to survey the comedy of a decade in one slim hour Thursday night.

It was impossible to do anything comprehensive on the ABC special, but there were some wonderful moments, like the rerun of an old film of Mike Nichols and Elaine May in their sketch about the bereaved man trying to arrange a $65 funeral which, it turned out, did not include coffin or hearse.

Newhart in his opening monologue had a wry summary of the things he found people had laughed at in the 60's: "Sin and booze, sudden death, naked people, police, vice presidents and effeminate men."

He replayed an inspired bit from a Carol Burnett show in which she started hearing voices accusing her of everything from gray laundry to bad breath. The Committee, an improvisational group, had a scathing spoof of TV giveaway shows, one called "Greed."

The generally sharp tone of the comedy, the definite political slant of some of the material—including some Mort Sahl cracks—gave the program plenty of spice and may even draw some complaints. But at least it was stimulating in spots and a nice change from the bland and predictable comedy that TV variety shows are showing out these days.

Another difficult decision in TV-watching looms tonight—whether to watch the first two-hour feature made for broadcast by CBS's film division, "Sole Survivor," or to buckle into NBC's "Name of the Game" and see good and noble Van Johnson play an absolute rotter, a crooked prize fight manager.

"Sole Survivor" is a fantasy that starts with the discovery of a World War II bomber in the African desert with the ghosts of the crew helping reveal the living crew member who caused the crash.

CBS executives may want the "Merv Griffin Show" to move its permanent base to Hollywood, but Merv Griffin doesn't. Merv said Thursday that he may make more frequent visits to Hollywood for longer stays, but has no intention of shifting his home studio.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Taking a few bites here and there, the average American last year ate more than 1,400 pounds of food at a cost of $495 per family member. Those who want to lighten the load and pocketbook and still eat a variety of pleasing meals can do so. Some good food for dollars that is in the low cost range includes a recipe for a baked potato salad dressed with ketchup, onion, green onions and mushrooms.

Have Safety Check Made On Portable Heaters

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

When the weather turns cold outside don't forget the indoor health hazards. If you use a portable space heater, you should have it checked every year by the utility company if it is electric or by the fire department, regardless of the type, to insure that it will not become overheated. Electric units should carry the seal of the Underwriters' Laboratory. Gas units should have the Certified Performance tag of the American Gas Association.

Kerosene heaters should have a wide base to prevent their tipping over.

You should always light the match before you turn on the gas. If you have an open fireplace you should keep a screen in front of it. Kerosene is explosive and should not be stored near a heater. Insure ventilation in the room when your gas or kerosene heater is on. This will prevent carbon monoxide poisoning. Never keep your heater going while you are asleep.

Q—Would an accidental overdose of iodine pills cause excessive itching or other side effects?

A—Since neither iodine nor its salts are commonly dispensed in pill form, I would have to know what preparation you have in mind. In general, too large a dose of an iodide may cause an itching rash. The best treatment for this is to reduce the dosage or discontinue using the drug.

Q—If heavy smoking causes leukoplakia of the mouth, what would cause it in other parts of the body? Does it always become cancerous?

A—Although the exact cause is unknown, often repeated irritation is a predisposing cause. It becomes cancerous often enough that it should always be considered possibly precancerous. For this reason most authorities recommend removal of the lesion.

Q—Is it harmful to take a lot of aspirin? If so, in what way?

A—Some persons, especially those with rheumatic heart disease or rheumatoid arthritis, can tolerate large amounts of aspirin. For most others taking two to four tablets daily may cause heartburn, slight bleeding from the digestive tract, anemia, congestion of the nasal passages or ringing of the ears.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

The classic advice to a young trial lawyer is that, if he has a good case, he should try it on its merits; with a bad case, he should try something else.

South had two legitimate plays for his contract. He could ruff out the king and queen of clubs or he could develop a club-diamond squeeze but South felt that neither of these plays would work and he decided to try a pseudo-squeeze.

He won the spade lead in dummy and led the queen of trumps. It held, whereupon he played the deuce of spades to his ace; ruffed his last spade and led another trump. East ducked. South overlooked and led a third trump to East's ace. East led back the jack of diamonds. South rose with his ace and led a trump to come down to a five-card ending. He had discarded two diamonds from dummy, so it was left with the king of diamonds and its original four clubs, while each defender was down to three clubs and two diamonds.

Now he led his fifth trump. West and East each threw a diamond away, whereupon South led a diamond to dummy's king, cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a club and made the last trick with a low diamond.

East blamed West for unguarding his queen of diamonds but West was in potential trouble with any discard. On the other hand, East had no real problem at all. He could afford a club discard, irrespective of whether or not South was holding two clubs or one club.

SPICY JOE

Brew 6 servings of coffee according to favorite method. Add four 2-inch sticks of cinnamon, 12 whole cloves and 12 allspice berries. Hold at serving temperature 15 minutes. Do not allow to boil. Strain into pitcher. Add 4 cups hot milk. Mix well. Sweeten to taste. Makes 8 generous servings.

CAFE MEXICANO

Put 1 teaspoon chocolate syrup into each of 4 small cups. Combine ½-cup heavy cream, ¼-teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg and 1 tablespoon sugar. Whip. Stir ½-teaspoon cinnamon into 1½ cups strong hot coffee. Pour coffee into cups. Stir to blend with syrup. Top with spiced whipped cream. Makes 4 servings.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Shed a tear for the movie musical, it's going, going, almost gone. The decline and near-disappearance of the musical can be cited as one of the major movie trends of 1970—and perhaps for years to come. A survey of future production discloses only two musicals definitely planned for this year.

The pair: "Fiddler on the Roof," which Norman Jewison will film in eastern Europe for the Mirisch Brothers, and "Bedknobs and Broomsticks," starring Angela Lansbury, which Disney Studio hopes will be a box office successor to "Mary Poppins."

A couple of decades ago, Hollywood was producing between 30 and 40 musicals a year. What happened?

They have been in decline for a decade. A major cause is expense. Musicals require large casts, long rehearsals and extended shooting periods. Nowadays it's almost impossible to film a major musical for less than $5 million, and many have cost $10 million and more.

Another major factor is the lack of receptivity overseas. The English and the Japanese still like American musicals, but the Germans, French and Italians do not. And in many other parts of the world where the musical tradition is unknown, chances of success for a tune film are scant.

The trend away from the musical has been accentuated during the past year. Costly flops have depressed the fortunes of film companies: "Doctor Dolittle" and "Star!" at 20th Century-Fox; "Sweet Charity" at Universal. Two new releases are being eyed nervously: "Goodbye, Mr. Chips" by MGM and "Paint Your Wagon" by Paramount. Both were very expensive and received mixed reviews. For now, "Hello Dolly!" is in release, but it will be a long time before the musical shows a profit. The bottom line: And Paramount has about one million tied up in the new musical, "Daring Lily" (Gene Autry, Rock Hudson) and "On a Clear Day You Can See Forever" (Barbra Streisand, Yves Montand).

On the credit side of the ledger, Columbia has enjoyed remarkable success with its two 1969 releases. Variety's chart of the 20-44 movie market U.S. market shows that "Funny Girl" has grossed $15.5 million and "Oliver!" almost $10 million. Largely because of these Disney Studio hopes will be the few companies to show a profit last year.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Twentieth-century warfare has been bravely depicted by modern news photographers. The World Almanac notes that the groundwork for battlefield photography originated during the American Civil War. A photographer named Matthew Brady vividly portrayed many historic episodes of America's most devastating war. Brady and his cameramen often risked their lives to capture the "lifeline" reality of the carnage about them.

Get The Light From GOD'S LIGHTHOUSE GUIDE YOU TO HIS CHURCH

Please God, Help Us!

In every man's life there is a moment when he is inadequate to the forces he faces. At such a time only his moral integrity will sustain him.

Those who have based their lives on their own strength inevitably will face the time and the place when that strength is insufficient to the necessity of the moment. They will crumble unless they know that they are never alone... that there is a power that can and will help them, no matter how terrible the times.

The man who has learned to rely on God can draw from this source of never-failing power and with resurgent strength face his future, unafraid.

If your church is to be a going concern, it must have church-going members. Sponsors listed below urge you to attend services this week.

Hope Star Still Claims No. 1 Team

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Here in the Nittany Mountains on the sprawling campus of Penn State University the argument will never die: Penn State is the No. 1 college football team of 1969, not Texas.

The final Associated Press Top 10 poll made Texas No. 1 and Penn State No. 2. Penn State people can read, but they don't believe the final judgement of the experts.

They can't understand how a team which has won 22 straight games and hasn't been defeated in its last 30 games could rank No. 2 to anyone.

Both of these streaks are the longest current such marks in major college football. The 30 game unbeaten record is the longest since Oklahoma's 48 in 1953 through 1957. Only a 17-17 tie against Florida State in the Jan. 1, 1967, Gator Bowl mars Penn State's football record over the last three years.

The last time the Nittany Lions lost was in the third game of the 1967 season, 17-15 to UCLA. Coach Joe Paterno says his team has met every challenge and if it isn't No. 1, he doesn't know who is better.

Paterno says Penn State played a tougher schedule than Texas, the Lions beat Colorado, Kansas State and Missouri, all of the Big Eight, one of the toughest conferences in the nation. They routed West Virginia, the only defeat for the Mountaineers who wound up a winner over South Carolina in the Peach Bowl. Colorado went to the Liberty Bowl and whipped Alabama.

Who did Texas beat? ask Penn State backers. The Longhorns struggled to take Arkansas and Notre Dame, the only two real powers on their schedule. Texas defeated Oklahoma, but the Sooners experienced an off year. Notre Dame lost to Purdue and was tied by Southern California. Arkansas bowed in the Sugar Bowl to Mississippi, a three-game loser.

Texas backers want to know why Penn State didn't vote to come to the Cotton Bowl and have it out with the Longhorns. The answer is simple and logical.

When State voted on a bowl game, Ohio State was No. 1, with only Michigan remaining on its schedule. It appeared that nothing short of the Minnesota Vikings could beat Ohio State, so the Lions decided it wasn't worth going to Dallas to fight for No. 2. They chose the sunny climate of Florida.

State didn't select a patsy in facing Missouri in the Orange Bowl. The Tigers were 9-1 and co-champions of the Big Eight. Missouri had one of the best offenses in the nation. It had crushed Michigan, which was in the Rose Bowl by virtue of its stunning win over Ohio State.

Penn State beat Missouri 10-3, with one of the most awesome defensive performances of this, or perhaps any other year. They intercepted seven passes and recovered two fumbles. They smothered Missouri's 36 point a game offense, stopping the nation's third best runner, Joe Moore, sending quarterback Terry McMillan to the sidelines in tears, and blanking Mel Gray, one of the game's top passers.

Penn State did it all. They won 11 games without a loss, scored 322 points to 90 for the opposition. It produced All-Americans in tackle Mike Reid and linebacker Dennis Onkott. Neal Smith, a little safetyman, intercepted 11 passes and made third team All-America. Its offense wasn't sensational, but it got the job done when it had to be done.

The annual professional football draft will be held in a few weeks, and Penn State people suggest the nation, including President Richard Nixon, see how many Penn State players

Lady Cats Clobber Blue Devils

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

In the first of two games last night, the Hope Ladycats pounded the Bodcaw Blue Devils, 61-44, at Jones Field House.

Betty Rodden got things started for Hope with the first eight points, to give the Lady Cats an 8-7 lead with 2:21 left in the first quarter. Mary Beth Millican and Belinda East finished the first quarter with baskets for a 12-10 lead.

Coming in at the outset of the second quarter Dee Singleton immediately hit five points while giving Bodcaw three and with 4:15 left in the half, Singleton, Rodden, and East combined for fifteen points to lift the Ladycats to a 33-21 halftime lead.

Leading into the third quarter Rodden and Singleton hit baskets for a 39-23 lead, but then stalled until 2:39 left when Singleton hit four points for a 42-27 lead. Rodden hit a basket at the end of the third quarter for a 50-29 cushion with one quarter to go.

The Ladycats stretched their lead to 59-30, before Bodcaw hit a fourteen point hot streak, holding the Ladycats to none. The last basket of the game was made by Millican with 0:27 left in the game.

Overall, the Ladycats could do nothing wrong, putting their offense and defense together for their best game of the season.

The defense held Bodcaw in check until the fourth quarter when the Blue-Devils hit their only real hot streak, while on offense the Ladycats hit 27 of 54 shots they attempted and 7 of 14 free throws.

The Ladycats have improved each week and have now raised their record to 4 wins against 8 losses.

An outstanding defensive performance was given by Sharon East, who blocked several shots and had many of the rebounds, in Also giving good performances were Cindy Hollis and Renee Quillin.

Others seeing action were Louise Kramer, Rita Taylor, and Jennifer Rhodes.

"B" Lizards Nip Bodcaw for Big Win

By RALPH ROUTON
Star Sports Writer

Leaving no doubts whatsoever, the Hope "B" Lizards kayaked the Bodcaw Blue-Devils 60-43 in the final night at Jones Field House.

Starting four sophomores and a junior, Hope romped off to a 41-14 halftime spread and took it easy after that.

That made the Lizards 2-1 for their season, with a game tomorrow night in the opener against Smackover's junior varsity.

After Bodcaw forward Jimmy Loe sacked a 20-footer for a 2-0 lead after 70 seconds, the Blue-Devil well went dry as a bone.

Guard Roger Newton nailed a 17-foot jumper and a layup, Tim White hit from 15 feet on the baseline, and Tommy Webb canned on from 18 feet for an 8-2 lead, as the Lizards realized they could win after all.

Following a timeout, Loe hit another to cut the deficit to 8-4 with 4:30 left in the period, before the dam broke. Hope began capitalizing on a pressing, gnawing defense that produced turnover after turnover for basket after basket.

In the next three minutes Newton got three layups, and White showed his shooting ability with three buckets from the outside. That made it 20-4, and Webb combined with fellow soph Steve Harris for two more and an astounding 24-4 Hope lead at the quarter.

Using that defense and some good rebounding underneath from big Lynn Norton and White, the "B" Lizards increased the margin.

Newton added five more points and Norton four in three quick minutes, and Hope had it in control 33-8. That became 41-14 at the half break, and a loose "B" squad took the bench clean without running up the big score, which is good business.

Defenses took the fore in the third segment, and a 6-6 deadlock made it 47-20 with eight minutes to go.

Bodcaw made the score look decent before it was over, mostly on the hot shooting of Loe, Don Williams, and Johnny Hollin. Free throws by Tommy Frazier and Bill Rowland pushed Hope to the final 60-43 tally in the closing seconds.

Tonight at Jones Field House the Hope Bobcats and the Yergor Jr. Bobkittens entertain the Magnolia Panthers and Panther Cubs starting at 6:30 p.m.

At 7-4 for the season, the Bobcats have a big weekend with Smackover here tomorrow night too. Practices here this week have been good, and the enthusiasm and attitude creating from the "B" Lizards victory will do nothing but good for the team.

Magnolia has been licking everybody in sight, and popped Hope 102-43 a year ago in Magnolia at the Panthers' Den. The Bobcats haven't forgotten, and should have no problems being mentally ready to go tonight.

Star backcourtman John Barnhill of Indiana sat out the game against Kentucky, and the Colonels' wish substitute Bill Keller would have, too.

Keller shot in 33 points and made a couple of key passes as Indiana whipped Kentucky 118-103 Thursday night to run their record to 30-7 and open up a seven-game lead over Kentucky in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Louis Dampier scored 36 for Kentucky.

Chualo
Refuses Fight With Quarry

TORONTO (AP) — George Chualo, Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, has turned down a $40,000 offer for a rematch with Jerry Quarry in New York's Madison Square Garden as part of the Joe Frazier-Jimmy Ellis heavyweight championship card Feb. 16.

Irv Ungerman, Chualo's manager, and matchmaker Teddy Brenner had reached agreement on the money in a meeting here Thursday night but left the final decision up to Dr. Joe Greenberg, Chualo's personal physician.

Chualo suffered a head injury in his December fight with Quarry but Ungerman said although the doctor felt Chualo would be in shape for the fight he "would have to train with headgear for at least two weeks since the injury hasn't fully healed."

"George wanted a full five weeks of training under normal conditions and refused to do two or three weeks sparring with headgear," Ungerman said.

In a 27-7 NFL title victory over Cleveland, the 31-year-old ran into the running tack but kept the ball and bulled his way seven yards into the end zone.

"I have seen some very beautiful plays by quarterbacks," said Kapp, who played eight seasons in the Canadian Football League before joining Minnesota in 1967.

"I guess I'm not as graceful but everybody has to do the job anyway he can."

However, there are two major obstacles standing in the way — the NBA feels the ABA's Washington, D.C., franchise is infringing on the territory of its Baltimore team, and the three-year-old ABA anti-trust suit against the NBA.

Dolph said the NBA has "given us an ultimatum about what we must do before they even talk about a merger."

He emphasized, however, that he was not planning on getting rid of the Washington franchise. He said although the switch of the franchise from Oakland to Washington was given as one of the reasons for failure of last summer's merger talk to materialize, it was his understanding that the talks "deteriorated before the move came up."

But, he added, "I believe the problem can be discussed and a way round to solve it that would be satisfactory to the ABA and Earl Foreman (Washington's owner)."

Dolph also said there could be an "area of compromise" concerning the antitrust suit.

"I can understand their position of not wanting to make war while trying to negotiate a peace, but we must protect ourselves in case there is no merger. We can't completely drop everything."

Dolph warned a "bidding war" will cost millions, adding: "I have always felt the economic situation will dictate some accommodation between the leagues."

Meanwhile, Kennedy said the "ABA knows what must be done to reopen negotiations. If they're interested, I expect to hear from them."

Joe Kapp
Called Rookie After 10 Yrs.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — After 10 professional football seasons, they still called Joe Kapp a rookie quarterback.

Deacon Jones of Los Angeles tagged the Minnesota Vikings' quarterback with that line in 1968 after the Rams trounced Kapp and Co. 31-3.

But Kapp finally made it to the top with a flourish in 1969 as he led the Vikings to the National Football League championship and into Sunday's Super Bowl against the Kansas City Chiefs.

Now, Kapp again is almost the forgotten man. Chiefs quarterback Len Dawson is getting most of the attention in New Orleans on the heels of an NBC report that Dawson would be questioned in connection with recent gambling arrests.

Kapp, however, still causes commotion, especially when newsmen swarm around him to ask about flutter passes and reckless running.

"I don't think my passes flutter," he says with a raspy friendliness. "I think I throw pretty good. I can zip them. And I'm not a scrambler. I'm a passer first. A scrambler goes back with the run in the back of his head."

"I only run when I have to. I only called my number about 10 times this season, and many of those were to run out the clock or when I sneaked. The others were on broken plays or when the receivers were recovered."

Kapp ran for the winning touchdown in a 23-20 Western Conference playoff victory over Los Angeles after setting it up with a scramble.

ABA Makes Peace Offering to National

NEW YORK (AP) — The fledgling American Basketball Association has made another peace offering to the older and more established National Basketball Association in hopes of warding off a continuation of the bitter bidding battle between the rival leagues.

"We believe there is sentiment in the NBA to discuss a merger," said Jack Dolph, new commissioner of the ABA, Dolph, who was not the commissioner when the first merger talks fell through last summer, revealed Thursday that he has asked NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy to resume the talks.

However, there are two major obstacles standing in the way — the NBA feels the ABA's Washington, D.C., franchise is infringing on the territory of its Baltimore team, and the three-year-old ABA anti-trust suit against the NBA.

Dolph said the NBA has "given us an ultimatum about what we must do before they even talk about a merger."

Couch Exiled After Chicken Pox

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — University of Minnesota basketball Coach Bill Fitch has rejoined his family after a 30-day exile because of chicken pox.

His 8-year-old daughter Marcy came down with the disease first, then his 10-year-old twins, Lisa and Tammy, broke out.

Fitch, who has never had chicken pox, set up living quarters in the coach's local room at Williams Arena, then moved to a motel near the campus.

"It sure was great to finally get a good meal," said Fitch.

Robinson May Play Safety in Super Bowl

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — For three agonizing years Willie Mitchell has lived with a pair of goat horns around his neck—and a burning urge to discard them with a reemerging performance in the Super Bowl.

Now that the chance is here, he doesn't want it.

"I'd rather for Robby to play," the 29-year-old cornerback of the Kansas City Chiefs said today. "He went to Louisiana State. This is his town and home folks will be around. Besides, this might be his last Super Bowl."

Mitchell's "Robby" is Johnny Robinson, the No. 1 free safety for the Chiefs, a questionable starter in Sunday's big showdown against the Minnesota Vikings because of a torn cartilage in his rib cage.

If Robinson starts, Mitchell sits. If Robinson can't play, Mitchell goes in as the understudy with an opportunity to make people forget the two Green Bay passes that soared over his head for touchdowns in the first Super Bowl game at Los Angeles, won by the Packers 35-10.

"You're darned right I want to play," said Mitchell, a hawk-faced native of San Antonio, Tex., who attended Tennessee State.

"I've thought of little else since the first super bowl game. I never thought I blew the protection against those passes. But everybody else did. I was the goat. I accepted it. I had to live with it."

"But this isn't a personal thing. It's a team thing. Robby is the No. 1 free safety. He's played that position all year. He's best at it. It's better for the team if he's ready to play."

Robinson, a 30-year-old, 10-year pro veteran, hurt his ribs in the American Football League playoff game against Oakland last week. He is so determined to play he plans to have an injection of novocaine to kill whatever pain there may be.

"It's a decision I must make, with Coach Stram (Hank Stram) and the doctors," Robinson said. "I want to play because I've played that position for the last 20 games."

"Heaven knows, if I'm unable to play, Willie can do the job. He's a fine football player. He has all the guts in the world. But I have the experience. And it might give us that much edge."

Chicago broke the game open by hitting a club-record 44 points in the third quarter. Bob Love led the Bulls with 34 points, and Connie Hawkins scored 29 for Phoenix.

In the only other NBA game, San Diego topped San Francisco 120-103.

New Orleans topped Miami 97-86 and Indiana took Kentucky 118-105 in the American Basketball Association.

Rookie Bernie Williams and Stu Lantz provided most of San Diego's scoring punch as the Rockets erupted in the fourth period against San Francisco. San Diego outscored the Warriors 36-19 in the final quarter after
